Bringing Broadband Internet To Malden WA Wired or Wireless, Inc. Breaks Ground On 1st Phase Of USDA Rural Development Grant

MALDEN, WA, September 28th 2009 – Wired or Wireless, Inc. (WOW), announces the Phase I implementation of the Community Connect Broadband Grant from the USDA Rural Development organization. WOW begins construction today on the town's first community center. This center will provide the general public free access to a much needed broadband Internet connection.

“Wired or Wireless, Inc is excited to begin building this network”, states Bill Geibel Jr., President and owner of WOW, “Bringing broadband to Malden will provide the town with many great opportunities for economic development.”

For many years the town's growth has been stunted due to its lack of access to a fast Internet service. With this grant underway Mayor Ted Maxwell expresses his excitement for the implementation of this project, “One of the disadvantages of living where housing is affordable has been the slow and expensive Internet service. The coming of high-speed Internet will be welcomed and greatly appreciated.”

In later phases of the grant WOW will be working to also provide the Malden Police Department, Malden City Hall, and Malden Fire Station free broadband Internet access.

Wired or Wireless, Inc. is a locally owned and operated company based in the Spokane Valley. WOW has built up an extensive portfolio of services over the last 10 years including but not limited to: structured cabling, broadband Internet service provider, two-way radio equipment sales and services, and project management.
